Oh So Heavenly

Look Good...Feel Better.

The cosmetic industry helping women cancer patients look their very best

Inkosi Albert Luthuli Central Hospital , Thursday 15 July 2010

Celebrate with us - LGFB workshops are now offered to women with cancer at Inkosi Albert Luthuli Central Hospital in Durban. The very generous R100 000 donation from Oh So Heavenly made possible the expansion of the LGFB programme to this hospital, one of 35 in SA.

The mood rapidly changed from anticipation to excitement as 20 patients, including 16 year old twins, eagerly unpacked their bags & were overwhelmed by the contents. As Charmaine professionally & sensitively guided patients through the 12 steps of skincare & make up, addressing their individual appearance related side-effects, we could visibly see their spirits rise. Thank you to Dr Joshua, Prof. Jordaan & Dr Govender for their enthusiasm; the oncology staff for inviting patients & Sanofi Aventis for refreshments. We look forward to a lasting relationship with IALCH & the opportunity to reach out & make a difference to many women with cancer.

Who have the biggest smiles .....the enthusiastic volunteers or the twenty excited patients?
